The road to revolution is a long one. It takes more than wishful thinking to make enough of an impact to change things for the better. To be a true innovator you need to have guts, confidence and a little wildness to stand up against the status quo.

Our MV Cover Girls Farrah Abraham, Kayla Kayden and Jaclyn Taylor perfectly embody this sense of rebellion. They are unapologetic in their ferocity. They are the rare sort of people who know exactly who they are and who aren't afraid to use their strength to shape the world around them. Because they believe in the power and positivity of sex, they are the perfect collaborators to help ManyVids create a future where society respects and values adult entertainers.

Like our MV Cover Girls, we at ManyVids have the courage to be ourselves so we can carve a much needed path in the road. That's why we're so proud of this issue of the MV Mag. For the first time ever, all the photoshoots were created exclusively by the MV Creative Team. We are delighted with the result and know that our readers will be too.

We've also designed the MV Instagram to be not just a fantastic community forum but also the social extension of the MV Mag. If you like what you see here, make sure to follow us on Instagram to see extra images from our photoshoots that showcase the exceptional style of our MV Stars.

When you believe in yourself, you can accomplish incredible things. The journey isn't always easy, but when you're striving to create a fair, equal and safe environment where everyone has the opportunity to shine, the effort will lead to extraordinary rewards.

Threee Women Search For Freedom.

1. What motivated you to enter the adult industry?

We live in a society that shames women for being sexually liberated. Human sexuality is a natural phenomenon that we see everywhere, from sites on the internet to a group of individuals attending a gentlemen's club. It could be as simple as friends discussing sex. The way most people choose to experience and express the topic is their choice.

I have to emphasize that I didn't intentionally decide to work in the adult industry. At that time, I was a young experimental 21 year old woman who happened to be a celebrity that tried to balance life, fame and dating while forging new friendships. The backlash I received for my sex tape was genuinely hurtful; I felt misunderstood for expressing my sensuality. Although it took me a few years to reconcile those feelings through therapy, along with my faith in God, I was able to overcome being sex shamed to find my real purpose. I am grateful for this experience because it made me into an empowered woman who proudly wants to help end the stigma around sex.

2. As someone from the American Midwest, what harm does repression of sexuality do to young women as they are growing up?

Sexual repression was rampant in my small town and caused many of my friends to live separate lives for fear of being judged and gaining a reputation. The reactions we get because of our sexuality early in life can negatively affect our lives as adults.

3. What does sex positivity mean for you?

For me, it means embracing your sexuality and personal freedom. It's important to promote safe and consensual sex and use my celebrity status to spread this vital message. I want to be able to spread this message to my daughter.

4. In terms of sexual expression, what differences or similarities do you see between the adult industry and the mainstream?

I think that the adult industry focuses more on sexual impulses and the mainstream, like cinema, portrays sex as an art form that tends to mimic real life and entices the senses.

5. Why do you think that the open expression of female sexuality is considered taboo?

More often than not, women can be incredibly unforgiving towards one another, especially when we decide to express our sexuality publicly. I would like to see more togetherness between women, regardless of our sexual preferences where we celebrate our differences by uplifting each other rather than tearing each other down. If we can accomplish this, female sexuality will no longer be considered taboo.

6. What changes do you wish to see in mainstream pop culture's portrayal of female sexuality?

It's time to end the double standard around sexuality in mainstream pop culture. I want to see slut shaming disappear. We need to stop harassing women who choose to be sexually free. The changes begin with ourselves, in our own circles. As a boss, I make sure that my employees understand that there's a zero-tolerance policy for sexual harassment. I'm pleased to see my employees flourish and focus on their professional careers.

7. What's next in your career journey?

At 26 years old, I feel like I've accomplished so much already and I hope to continue to develop new products, from my furniture, toys, and clothing line to providing entrepreneurs with educational resources. The sky's the limit. I would also love to open a new frozen yogurt location! I'm interested in acting and portraying roles that will empower women everywhere. In the end, I want to continue to be me, Farrah Abraham: serial entrepreneur.

8. How do you think we should educate future generations to promote sex positivity?

Sex health education begins at home, as parents are the first teachers in life. We need to find new ways to educate and enlighten future generations about sex and the consequences of unhealthy relationships. I'd love to see a psychologist or a clinician who specializes in sexuality provide sessions to families.

1. Tell us about your career beginnings and what your journey was like.

The beginning of my career was so exciting for me. I am from the East Coast so I initially submitted photos to a Playboy online casting. I received a call back and I actually just flew out to LA with my mom to attend the casting. While in LA, I was invited to the Playboy Mansion for a party. From there I met a photographer who started photographing me. My first magazine was called Kandy Magazine. After that, I was published in Playboy South Africa, Playboy Poland, and Playboy Croatia. For about two years I worked for Playboy as a body-paint model at the Mansion parties. I was then approached by someone in the adult industry about shooting for Brazzers, so I shot my first adult film, and the rest is history.

2. Are there any problems regarding sexual expression that you currently see in the adult industry?

When it comes to porn, there is so much controversy, now more than ever. There are the liberals who don't seem bothered by it, but then there's that other group who seem to feel porn should be outlawed. There was even an article in the Washington Post recently stating the Florida House of Representatives refuses to debate guns, but declares porn as "dangerous". This is BEYOND ridiculous. I am a strong, confident woman, I make my own decisions based on what I'm comfortable with, and this industry has empowered me in a way nothing else could. I don't come from a broken home, I come from an "abnormally normal" household and I have never been forced into this. †

> I am a strong, confident woman, I make my own decisions ...

† Music from this generation is like the audio form of porn. I mean, songs with lyrics like "I just fucked your bitch in some Gucci flip flops" isn't exactly enforcing sexual positivity. Sex sells in music, movies, photography, and even porn. Porn is an escape for people to starve their stressors and feed their fantasies. I think there's a huge misconception when it comes to porn. People think seeing a woman being manhandled or spat on is disrespectful and degrading to women,but in my opinion (maybe because I'm the one enduring this treatment) it's not even close to that. Porn is a fantasy. The women seen in adult films, believe it or not, consented to what they're doing.

3. What is your favorite kind of scene to shoot?

My favorite kind of scene to shoot so far is something on the darker side ... something not so vanilla. I shot a scene once where I was a hooker and the male talent (my actual, real-life fiance) hired me to fuck him in front of his girlfriend, played by the other female talent, who he found out was actually a hooker as well. There was a lot of taunting in the scene and it had a dark side to it which was really awesome to shoot.

4. What do you think differentiates a good adult actress from a great adult actress?

I think that to be a great adult actress you have to be open to just about anything. You have to literally find something that turns you on in each and every person you work with. They are your partner for the day so you need to basically find the chemistry. You have to be confident and ready to do whatever is necessary to make the other person feel comfortable with you, as well as focus on yourself through the day. You need to make sure you have good posture in all the positions, your facial expressions look good, your moans sound authentic, etc. I mean, there's truly a lot involved in a solid performance.

5. What was the craziest sexual experience you've ever had?

If I'm being perfectly honest, I'm very different outside of work. I don't have crazy sex on the daily; I almost always save it for shooting. I think the craziest sexual experience I ever had was in college: my girlfriends and I went out and went home with these guys. We just had this crazy orgy. I remember we went home not even knowing their names and we were just like, okay cool! Taco Bell?

6. If you could open your own adult film studio, what would you want to do?

If I could open my own adult film studio, I think I'd want it to be very out of the ordinary, almost like a reality TV channel where it's all different seasons with like 10 episodes or so, almost like MTV's "Real World". It would be a bunch of performers in a house, living and coexisting together, but the porn version. Normal, reality TV drama, plus crazy sex scenes.

7. If you could start your career over, what would you do differently?

I'm not sure to be honest. I am not one to have regrets, but I definitely wish I could rewind and restart my career with the knowledge I have now. When I started shooting porn, I literally just thought okay, have sex on camera, get paid. Sign me up! But it's truly so much more than that. Also my business sense is a lot stronger than it was coming into this in my early 20s. I'm a grown woman, I know who I am completely, and I know how to conduct my business.

1. In your own words, what does sex positivity mean for you?

I think sex positivity is about embracing your sexuality, and not being ashamed of it. When you are free to be yourself, you will be so much happier. On top of that, enjoying having sex and understanding your body is very important. I would also say that the importance of having orgasms is often overlooked.

2. What do you enjoy the most about being in the adult industry?

There are so many great things about being in the industry but in reality, the thing that I enjoy most would be creating my own videos. I love coming up with new ideas for content and then seeing what comes of it when I start recording. It's so much fun to create your own masterpieces.

3. What sex acts guarantee you'll achieve orgasm?

I would say really good oral sex. I am all about that! Also, I really like when I'm hooking up with multiple people at the same time. It's so sexy and always makes me cum faster, and make my orgasms that much stronger.

4. As someone in the camming industry as well as the adult film industry, what pros and cons do you see with each?

With camming, I would have to say that the pro is the success. I always do really well on cam. Getting huge tips is the best feeling ever! I also love the people who spend time on cam with me, and not having to leave the house or run out to get wardrobes is always a plus! There is little expense and big rewards. The cons would have to be sometimes I get lonely and I tend to procrastinate too much. Sometimes it will take me hours to just log on while I am busy doing other things.

The pros to shooting mainstream porn is that I get to hook up with tons of attractive people. Also, I love the feeling when I see the advertisement and get the pictures back where I was all made up and looking and feeling great. The cons would have to be the wait time that it takes to get the finished product.

5. In your opinion, what are the main issues that should be addressed within the adult industry today?

I think the main issue in the adult industry is that a lot of talent needs guidance on where they can generate income. Someone needs to help the stars understand what it takes and how to achieve success while making a living doing so.

6. What turns you off, and more importantly, what turns you on?

Aside from the obvious visual turn-ons, I would have to say my biggest turn-offs personality wise would be if someone hates animals, or is mean to animals and people. On the contrary, my biggest turn on would be someone who loves and respects animals and people!

7. What has been your main source of motivation during the span of your career so far?

The main source of motivation during the span of my career has for sure been my income. There is nothing better than working hard and seeing it pay off.

8. What advice would you give to a young woman considering a career in the adult industry?

My advice would be to start at the beginning. Doing webcamming and shooting your own content is a great way to jump in. Work on your branding and begin building your own empire.

1. You have a blog on your website. How do you decide what to write about?

Many of the things that I choose write about are topics and questions that my followers and members bring up, either through the “Ask” section on my blog, on Twitter, or when I’m live on cam. I often look to my members to see what sort of topics they are most interested in having me explore through my writing.

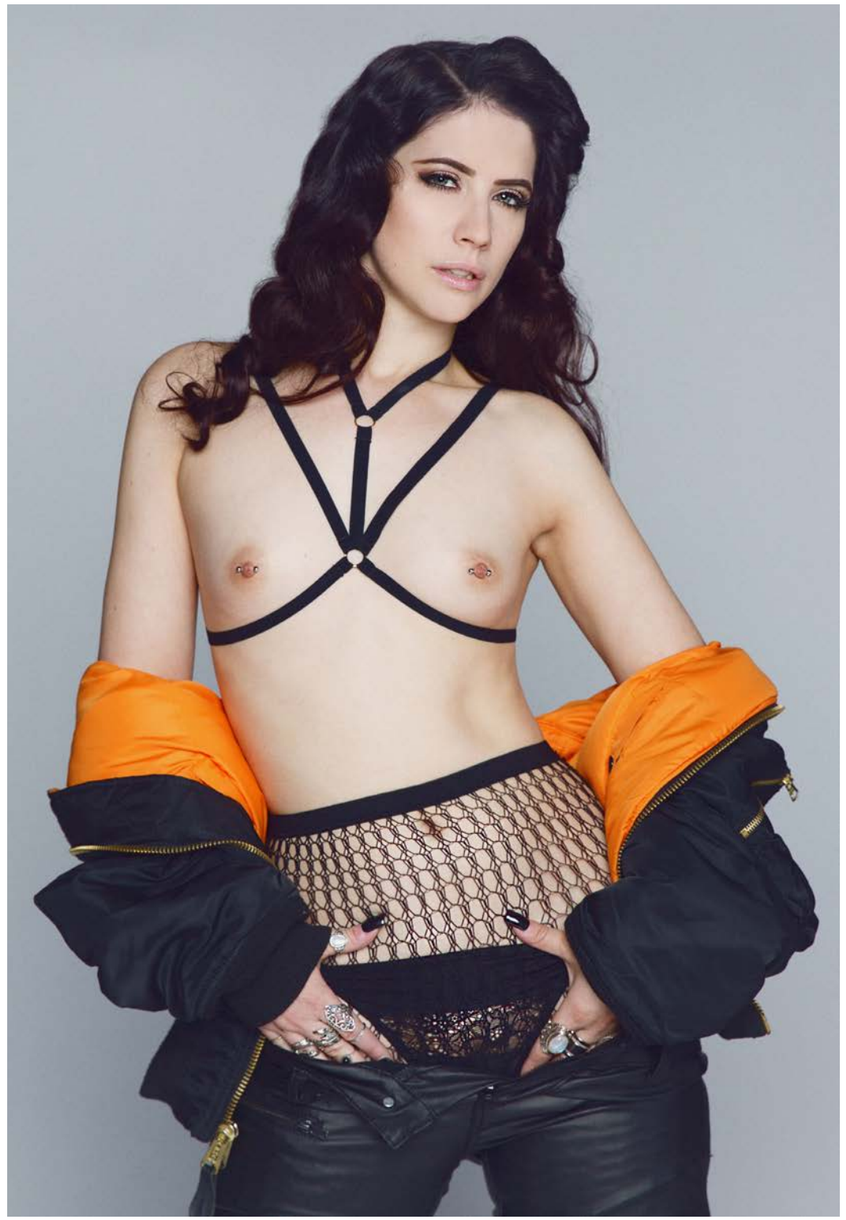
I also LOVE writing about sex and sexuality. I have found that constructively talking about human sexuality is still considered taboo in many circles, despite the fact that it is such a huge part of the human experience. Which is why I think that myself and other sex workers have an opportunity to offer a unique insight into sex and sexuality based on our experiences of working in the adult industry. The prevalence of social media and the interaction that it allows gives us the ability to talk openly and shed light on the many myths and misconceptions of sex, especially in regards to porn.

2. How would you describe your style?

My style is stuck somewhere between goth chic and classic glamour. I love clothing and accessories of the burlesque dancers from the victorian era, right through to the 20s and 30s. As well, I adore the hair, makeup, and lingerie of the old-school, Hollywood film stars and pin-up girls of the 40s through to the 60s.

On the flip side, however, when I first started experimenting with style and fashion, I was heavily influenced by the goth industrial fashions of the early 2000s. Thus, goth fashion, in its many incarnations and ever-evolving forms, has always had a special place in my heart (and my wardrobe).

I love that my work allows me to incorporate both of these very different styles. I get to juggle my love of lace and lingerie, pin-curls and red lipstick with my more sensual videos and photos ets, but I also get to break out my goth style for fetish and femdom work. It really is the best of both worlds!



3. What do you like about being an MV Girl?

Being an MV girl has allowed me so many amazing opportunities to grow and become as self-sufficient as possible in this industry. I love the power that comes with being being my own boss, as well as being in full creative control of my content, and having complete agency over how it is created and how it is used.

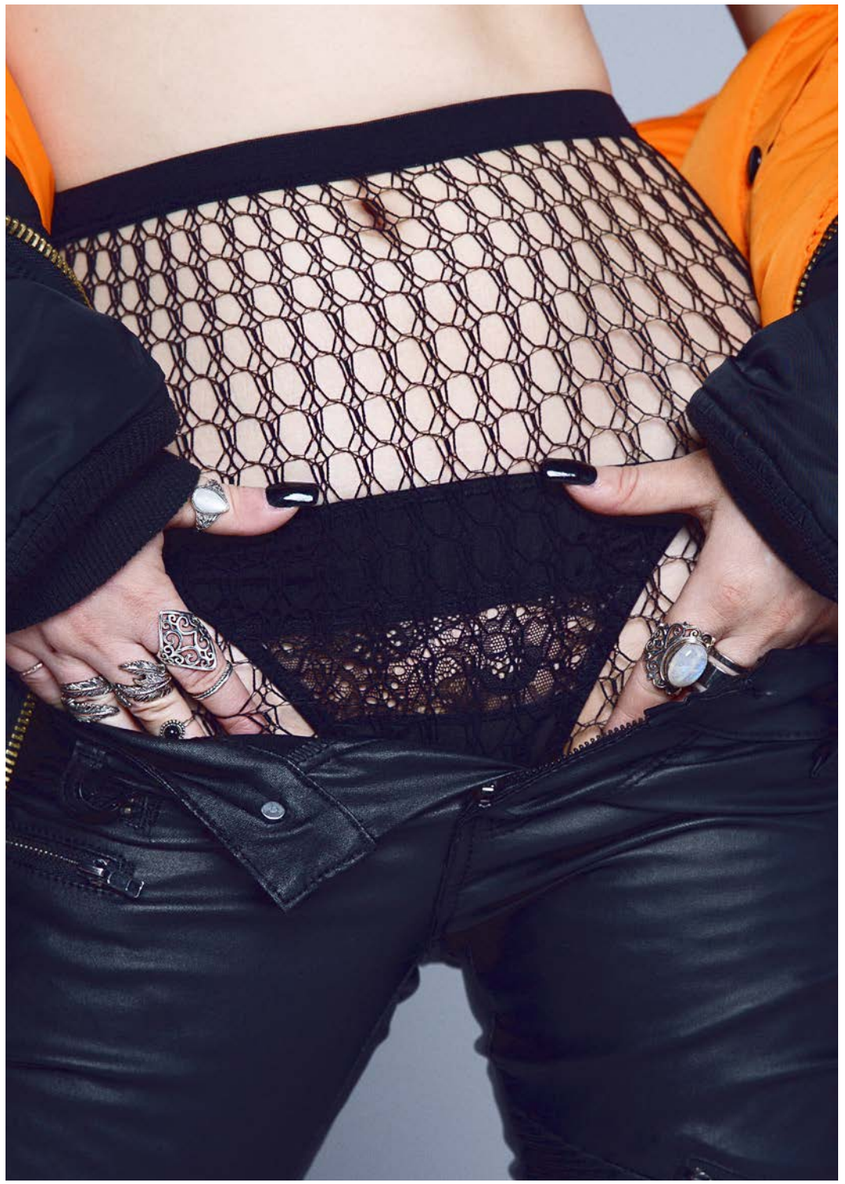
Manyvids has been so supportive along every step of the way. From day one I was blown away by the support and the quick responses to my barrage of questions in regard to setting up my profile. I've also been extremely impressed by the new features that the MV team has developed to give their models the opportunity to expand their following and promote their work.

4. Where do you find your inspiration to create your vids?

Once again, so much of my inspiration comes from my members and followers. I find the constant search to come up with new scenarios to be one of the most challenging parts of my job. In turning to my members for feedback and ideas, I can both make sure that I am putting forth content that my fan base craves while keeping it fresh and interesting at the same time.

5. What is your favourite type of content to create?

I LOVE jerk off instruction. I really had no idea when I shot my first JOI video so many years back how much it would change the trajectory of my content. In fact, when I shot my first JOI video I had never heard of the niche before, and I had zero inkling of just how popular it was. I have always been told that my dirty talk and voice were one of the greatest strengths of my content, so finding a new way to expand on those talents with my JOI videos was the start of something that would quickly encompass my brand. I also love to dress up and get into the characters that I'm portraying in my videos. Whether it's fetish, cosplay, or more down-to-earth, everyday scenarios, I really enjoy being able to ham it up for the camera.

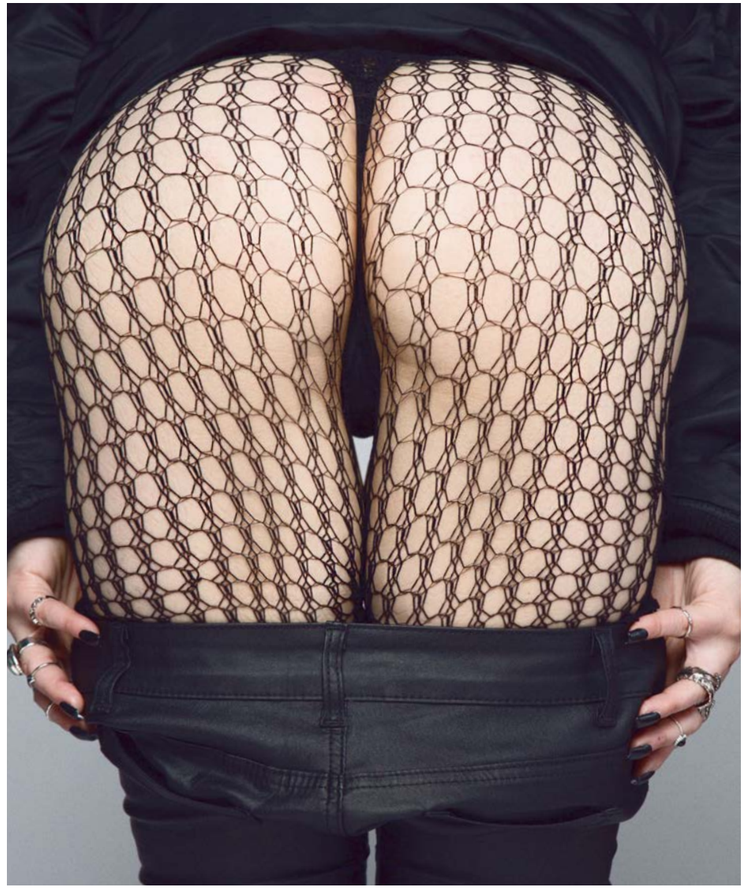


6. What are your favourite beauty products?

Black eyeliner, black mascara, and my Anastasia Dipbrow Pomade is the linchpin to my whole makeup routine. Without them, I am completely at a loss. I also swear by coconut oil for pretty much everything. I baste myself with it in the winter to keep my skin soft, I use it as make-up remover, and I use it on my hair to keep the frizzies at bay.

7. What do you love about the BDSM lifestyle?

I have always loved the freedom and exploration that the BDSM lifestyle encourages. There is so much more to sexuality than just penis-in-vagina sex. The world of BDSM expands on all that is weird and wonderful about human sexuality. I have always considered myself to be a kinky person, but since working in the adult industry, I have had the opportunity to explore more aspects of fetishism, kink, and BDSM than I ever could have imagined. It has been a fascinating journey!



8. Is there anyone in the industry you look up to?

I think Nina Hartley should be considered an adult industry treasure. Her work, wealth of experience, and sex-positive activism have always been something that I deeply admired. I am also a huge fan of Kayden Kross and I am in absolute lust with Vex Ashley and the collaborative art-porn project, Four Chambers.

1. How did you get your start in the industry?

I've been a performer for as long as I can remember. The thrill of bringing a character to life for an audience and feeding off each other's energy has always given me such a rush. So in that aspect it was an easy transition. When I started out I was living in an unstable housing situation and needed to make money fast. I also needed a job that would be chill with my piercings and shaved head. I was following a few models on Tumblr who projected such a powerful, radiant beauty and I wanted other people to see that when they looked at me. I had quite a few nudes under my belt and an old laptop so I went to work.

2. How do you balance sex between your real life and your professional life?

When I started out I would ask pretty much everyone to film with me, friends, strangers off OkCupid, fuck buddies: it was very fun, but very messy. In order to do well in this industry, I had to make it a priority to really focus on my work, so I'm not as wild anymore. My energy levels fluctuate a lot based off my work schedule so there are times when I'm too exhausted from filming to fuck. Some days I've cum five times already and just want to cuddle. The custom scripts my guys write make me pause and whip out my vibe quite often. These days I keep my personal sex life my own sweet little secret.

3. What is your favourite type of content to create?

That's an impossible question to answer for me! I love so many things but to narrow it down I'd say I absolutely love taboo role play and smells. It's not really a fetish, but the intricacies of the different role play scenarios people come up with really turn me on. Y'all are freaky! I love it. I get the chance to be really creative. Dirty talk is what I'm known for so I love spinning stories that get people off.

Then there's also smell. I'm a nasty lil' punk kid at heart. I love stink so much! I could shove my face in your ass and just lie there and breathe for hours and hours and be content. Whether it's fetish, cosplay, or more down-to-earth, everyday scenarios, I really enjoy being able to ham it up for the camera.

> “I’ve always had a wild imagination ...

4. You’re very prolific and creative in your vids. Where do you get all of your inspiration?

My insanely amazing fans! Ninety-five percent of my content is custom clips designed by someone who messaged me. I flesh out their fantasies by adding my own filthy talk and those sexy details that will help really get me off. I’ve always had a wild imagination so it’s fun as fuck to have the opportunity to put it to good use for my fans.

5. What was the most exciting thing that has happened in your career so far?

The most exciting thing was realizing this past year that I could actually make it as a clip model. In 2017 I was able to provide myself a quality of life I never expected to. I could eat out and buy good food from grocery stores, I could splurge on clothing, I could save money ... I didn’t have this kind of financial security before sex work. I actually have health insurance now! My fans have been such an incredible blessing to my life. I plan to stick with it and work as hard as I can to be as successful as I can be.

6. Can you tell us about the wildest sexual encounter you’ve ever had?

Five horny guys on a tour bus. At one point I had to reach around to figure out who someone was by their dick. Grab my vid “Confessions of a Whore” for the full story.

7. If you could clone yourself as many times as you want, what would you do?

I mean, obviously I’m gonna dick myself down, c’mon.

8. Could you tell us about future vids you're planning at the moment?

I'm filming some fabulous content with Cattie Candescent and Reiina Pop in February! Just finished shooting some taboo roleplay with Codi Vore at AVN which was really fun. Also working on some insanely hot Bad Dragon content creation with the girls at Cam Girl Doll House in April. Follow me on twitter @littlepuck for all the filthy, freaky details.

1. Tell us about your sweet dog. How did she come into your life?

I grew up having dogs and I wanted to get one ever since I moved out from NY to LA three years ago, but it was nearly impossible with my busy work schedule. In the past year I made some changes career-wise which included becoming a free agent. Now I have total control over my work schedule. This meant that I finally had the time to get a furry friend! After researching breeds, I decided on a mini Australian Shepherd because of their friendly nature, intelligence, and loyalty. I found a breeder near me, picked her out and named her Scout. She was just a tiny ball of fuzz! Now she's almost a year old and I can't even imagine how I lived my life before her. She's my best furry friend. It was a big surprise, though, when I found out from the vet that Scout is actually a full sized Australian Shepherd!

2. What's your favorite social media app?

I love Instagram. I draw a ton of inspiration from it for all parts of my life, like places to visit and outfit ideas. Plus, it's a cool way to show glimpses of my life to my fans!

3. How would you describe your style? Who is your style inspiration?

I like to say that I'm half girly girl, half rocker chic. I absolutely love glitter and pastel colors (especially pink) and I'm a bit of a snob in the sense that I primarily only shop labels that can be found at places like Bloomingdales, Nordstrom, etc. But, if I happen to find something cute somewhere like H&M, Forever 21, etc., I'm not going to turn it down! And then there's my grungier side; I credit that to my love for rock and metal music since an early age. So I like to combine the two styles to make it my own. I'll wear stuff like shiny black leggings paired with a black faux leather jacket with a baby pink Juicy tshirt and diamond earrings. That kinda thing.

I draw inspiration from a ton of people so I can't really name a one, but off the top of my head I definitely draw inspiration from people like Kendall Jenner, Gigi Hadid and Paris Hilton.

4. How has working in adult entertainment transformed you?

Working in adult entertainment has not only allowed me to fully blossom into my true self, but it also taught me how to love myself for exactly who I am. It gave me an insane level of confidence that will never falter. It gave me a brand new perspective on myself, on women and humanity as a whole. We place such strange limitations on ourselves with how we place different expectations on men and women, everything from how each gender is supposed to act, what their roles are in society, and of course, sexuality. It's really opened my eyes to how silly it all is. I've learned that despite what society tells you, if you do whatever it is you want to do anyways, people eventually come to accept it. So basically, live the life you want because ultimately the vast majority of people who place a stigma on women who choose porn as a career (for example) are also the biggest porn watchers.

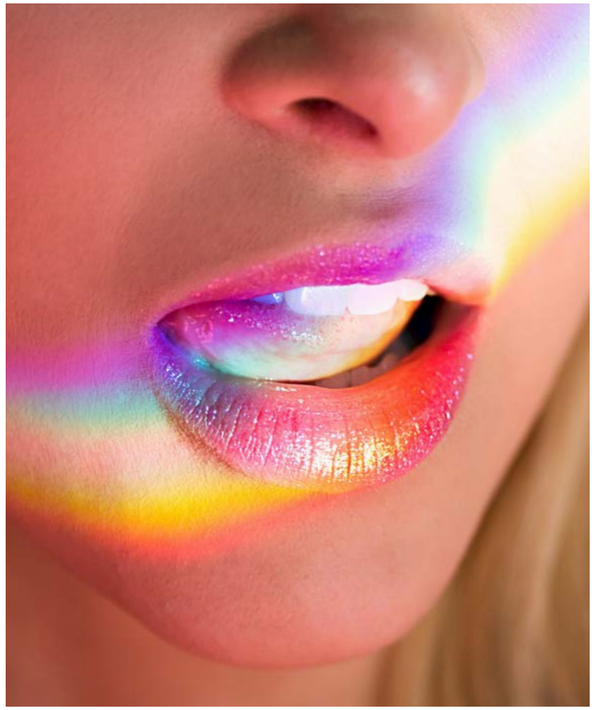
I also never thought I would be an entrepreneur growing up, but ultimately that's what I am. Having my entire career built around a brand that I created from scratch means that there is no ceiling to what I can achieve. The feeling is indescribable. I will never work for someone else again.

5. What advice would you give to an up and coming MV Star?

Don't worry about what other people are doing. It's one thing to take a peek to see what categories are doing well, and, if you're comfortable creating a video in that category, by all means do it! Just do it with your own twist on it. That's how you're going to grow a lifelong, loyal fan base. Don't try to be someone you're not and don't perform anything you genuinely don't enjoy. Also, step outside of the adult industry and draw inspiration from somewhere else, whether it's a mainstream TV show, movie, magazine or even just a trip you take. Use your own unique experiences to influence how and what you're creating. This is how you set yourself apart from the others, how you define yourself as a person and how you ultimately feel the most fulfilled. And don't take crap from anyone.

6. What nerdy things do you love?

I am indeed a big ol' nerd. I love playing old school video games like Super Mario Bros. I'm a Redditor and proud of it. I love reading! The Harry Potter series is my all-time fave, but I also love reading business and marketing books. I'm really into certain anime shows and, as of recently, I'm way deep into investing and day trading cryptocurrencies.



7. Can you describe your perfect date?

It would be something totally non-traditional, so no dinner and movie for me! I'm a big fan of arcade bars out here in LA, which is exactly what it sounds like. I love being active and being outside, so something like going to an amusement park or going ATVing in the desert would be awesome.

8. Can you sum up your favorite sexual experience in 5 words or less?

1. Do blondes have more fun?

I've been blonde almost my entire life, so I'm a little biased! I think fun is subjective but I do have a hell of a lot of fun.

2. What's your favorite story to tell at parties?

I have a huge kink for getting naughty in public and not just for videos. However this one time I decided to climb a fire escape and play with myself. At the end of all this I walked down and finally took a look at the building directly connected to the one I was fooling around on. It was a police station with at least 10 officers outside! I still wonder if they were completely oblivious to what I was doing or if they were too busy watching to tell me to stop.

3. Can you think of the most intense orgasm you've ever had? What made it happen?

I was at a sex club and found two people to have fun with. The guy was finger fucking my pussy while the girl kept choking and slapping me and sitting on my face and then the guy put his cock in my ass! It was the most intense thing I've ever experienced.

4. If you could change one thing about the adult industry, what would it be?

There is such a stigma against sex work and I really wish fellow sex workers bonded together more and supported each other. We could all use some support every once and awhile!

5. What do you love most about being an MV Girl?

I love being able to explore my kinky side and make my own content! I'm my own boss and I get so turned on when people watch me! It's a win-win. I believe ManyVids really stands out compared to any other clip sites as they really give their content creators so many chances to succeed and grow their own business, from marketing tools to weekly cash contests! They're always evolving and changing the game with new, amazing opportunities such as MV Live Takeovers, the Manyvids Podcast and the Manyvids Loft!

6. What instantly makes you feel sexy?

Heels! I love heels. I wear them everywhere, even the grocery store!

7. What's the quirkiest thing about you?

I can meow just like a real cat! It's kind of my hidden talent. But really. I'm scary good at it.

8. What's the strangest custom vid you've ever been asked to create?

I was once asked to make an hour long video of me throwing sliced cheese on my boobs while commenting about how each hit of cheese felt on my skin! I jokingly told the guy it would be $500 and he paid up! Most entertaining video I ever made. He even paid me to buy the right brand of sliced cheese.

COOL IT, BABY!

FEATURING

Jessica Starling

MONTREAL, CANADA

1. What's the kinkiest sex you've ever participated in?

I was having Dom/sub sex with a partner and my hands were handcuffed to the bed. He was slapping my face before he wrapped his hand around my neck and squeezed. Breath play is something we would normally do but this time I never tapped on his arm to stop, and he choked me out and kept fucking me (completely consensual and extremely hot).

2. What 5 things do you wish more people understood about being a cam girl?

1) We work hard as hell. Cam girl hustle is a hustle like no other. 2) No one is entitled to our time or attention. Time is money, boys. 3) It's extremely emotionally, mentally and socially draining to be on cam for an extended amount of time. Appreciate what we do for you guys. 4) The website does NOT pay us a fee for being here! One hundred percent of what we earn comes from purchases and tips. I've had to explain this to many members before. 5) Piracy hurts us (and is illegal). If you like a cam girl, actually buy her content and tip her on cam so she can continue doing what she does.

3. Do you have a vid you're especially proud of?

I'm really proud of all of my Halloween videos, honestly. The one is think I am proud of the most is "Possessed Nun Gets Anal Creampie". I rub my pussy with a crucifix, hump a bible, quote The Exorcist and say horrible things that I never thought would come out of my mouth.

4. Do you have a favorite prop or costume piece that you just love?

I adore my Bad Dragon dildos. They're such good quality and look cool as hell. I'm always looking for excuses to use them more!

> Cam girl hustle is a hustle like no other.

5. How would you describe your style?

My style is a hybrid of many things and changes depending on the mood I'm in. However, I was once described as looking like a "mafia wife" and now that's the ultimate aesthetic I aspire to.

6. Where do you see yourself in 5 years? How about 20?

In five years I see myself still in the industry, making wildly creative and strange content that I'm proud of. In 20 years I'll be retired, (hopefully) a published author and focusing on other creative pursuits.

7. When was the last time you laughed until you cried?

My partner was fucking me doggy style, a position notorious for packing air in pussies, and I started queefing. We both were laughing, but then he squeezed me and I queefed more and even louder. And then we proceeded to cry laughing.

8. What's one fact about yourself fans would be surprised to hear?

I like to read a lot, which I'm sure I've said, but I read political theory mostly. You can catch me after a long day of filming curled up with a glass of wine and Das Kapital or Women, Race and Class.
